OUR COMMITMENT TO EQUITY, RACIAL JUSTICE, DIVERSITY, INCLUSION AND DECOLONIZATION

The Faculty of Social Work (FSW), University of Calgary (UCalgary), is committed to promoting and actualizing equity, racial justice, diversity, inclusion and decolonization. We affirm that diversity and uniqueness are enriching and valuable, and that they can strengthen our teaching, learning, research, scholarship, and community connections. We aim to foster an inclusive, thriving and equitable environment for our students, non-academic and academic staff, and community members. We take the stand that equity does not mean sameness in treatment of people, but rather requires measures and accommodations for diverse life experiences and circumstances to ensure that no one of a particular social group is disadvantaged, underrepresented or overlooked in all aspects of our work. We intend to address systemic inequities and compounded disadvantages due to intersectionality of social locations, particularly for those who are members of racialized communities, Indigenous peoples, Black peoples, persons with disabilities, migrant groups (including refugees and immigrants), 2SLGBTQ+ communities, linguistic minorities as well as those who have experienced socioeconomic, caregiving, religious, political, and/or cultural barriers to their education and employment. We also recognize, honour, and integrate into our work diverse perspectives, ways of knowing and doing, experiences, and strengths. An anti-oppressive lens, particularly intersectional, anti-colonial, anti-racist and decolonizing frameworks, will inform our work.

Please refer to our full statement of Our Commitment to Equity, Racial Justice, Diversity, Inclusion and Decolonization, the work of the faculty's Anti-Black Racism Task Force, and the university's Indigenous Strategy.

SYLLABUS STATEMENT

A basic understanding of social work practice theories with respect to work with organizations and communities.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

In this course, students will engage in critical and theoretical reflection and discussion about mezzo and macro social work practice. Organizations will be viewed as both a context and a target of social work practice. Students will assess and develop strategies for working effectively within organizations. They will also participate with other students in collaborative activities, engage in online experiential learning opportunities, and learn from practitioner/stakeholder presentations to develop practical skills for working with organizations and communities. This course has no pre-requisites or co-requisites.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

Alignment with Program Learning Objectives (PLOs) and Assignments (A) is indicated in brackets below for each Course Level Objective (CLO). Class activities and readings will be designed to also align with PLOs and CLOs. By the end of the course students will be able to demonstrate evidence of achieving the following CLOs:

- Describe ways in which social and organizational policies, as well as current issues and trends, can shape practice with organizations and communities (PLO7; A1, A2 & A3);
- Identify how social work identity and core social work values can inform practice within organizations and communities (PLO1,2,3,4 & 8; A1 & A2);
- Integrate course learnings with social work practice and other social work experiences, and be able to articulate these connections (PLO5; A1 & A2);
- Demonstrate an understanding of theoretical models related to practice with organizations and communities (PLO1 & 5; A1 & A2);
- Discuss ways in which research can inform and be informed by practice (PLO6; A1 & A2);
- Engage in research, critical analysis, and discussion related to key practice topics including social innovation, collaboration, program design, engagement, diversity, human rights, values and ethics, social justice, and change (PLO2,3,4,5,6,8,9; A2; A3);
- Develop a toolkit of practice skills and strategies as part of their emerging social work identity, which can be used to engage diverse stakeholders in organizations and communities (PLO1,4,9; A3); and
- Articulate how they contributed to their own and other students' developing professional social work identity through course participation and engagement with other students, guest speakers, and the instructor (PLO1,8,9; A4).

GUIDELINES FOR ZOOM SESSIONS IN ONLINE CLASSES

Students are expected to participate actively in all Zoom sessions. If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session (e.g., to review a recorded session). Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected, if they are able, to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.). All students are expected to behave in a professional manner during the session.

MEDIA RECORDING FOR ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING

The instructor may use media recordings as part of the assessment of students. This may include but is not limited to classroom discussions, presentations, clinical practice, or skills testing that occur during the course. These recordings will be used for student assessment purposes only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

ZOOM RECORDINGS OF ONLINE CLASSES

The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

ASSESSMENT COMPONENTS

1. Assignment 1: Preparing a Program Change: Reflective Essay & Connecting Course Learnings with Practice.

Weight: 25%-Due date: Wednesday Oct. 6 (midnight) in the assignment Dropbox in D2L

Prepare a 1000-word essay integrating your learnings from Part A of this course to practice. Select a community development program in a local or international nonprofit organization that is of interest to your group. Include the following:

- 1) Organizational Context: Describe the organization – include its funders, vision, mission and brief overview of strategic plan (if applicable);
- 2) Theory: What community or organizational theories or models of practice inform this program/organization?
- 3) Program description: Describe a specific program including: 1) the social problem the program is addressing; 2) theory guiding the program; 3) the target population and gaps (whose needs are being met by this program, whose are not?); 4) key stakeholders (funders, program staff, past/current clients in the program, board members, community organizations linked to the program's services);
- 4) Research: Are the social problem and its characteristics clearly identified and supported by research? Does the program respond to the identified needs of the target population?
- 5) Reflection: Explain how you feel about the program (does it align with social work values in some ways? If so how? Be sure to include references);
- 6) Program change: Explain how the program could be changed to promote greater social justice (explain using at least one peer-reviewed reference).

Students must include a minimum of two peer-reviewed articles - include citations in reference list in correct APA format.

You are also expected to include an introduction (introduce your practice context) and conclusion. A cover page is not required. The goal of this assignment is to encourage you to continually integrate course learnings with your practice and be able to articulate these connections. This will assist you with preparing your MSW exit requirements in the future.

2. Practice Topics – Virtual Coffee, Critique, and Conversation

Weight: 25% - Due date: as per sign-up sheet, max. 6 students per topic

Complete the following steps and include the required details when completing this assignment. A rubric with the allocation of marks for each criteria will be posted in D2L. This is an individual assignment.

- 1) Select 1 practice topic of interest to you (and a 2nd choice as a backup).
- 2) Sign-up on the 1st day of class for the date assigned to the practice topic. This will be your facilitation date.
- 3) Find 1 peer-reviewed article (published in the last 5 years) related to your practice topic.

- 4) Prepare a 500-word critical analysis of your article that includes:
 - a. Overview of the article/chapter: Provide one or two sentences that describe the purpose of the article/chapter. This should be formulated after reading the whole article/chapter and should capture the “essence” of what the article is about.
 - b. Summary of main points: Provide three points which speak to the main arguments/ideas put forward by the authors. Try not to get lost in details and sub-points.
 - c. Counter-arguments/personal reactions (critical thinking): How did you feel after reading the article/chapter? What stood out to you? What did the author overlook?
 - d. Application to practice: Comment on how does one main point align or contradict with social work values/standards of practice? What 3 questions would you like to discuss with the class?
 - e. Discussion: On your facilitation day, you will be responsible for leading a small group discussion in breakout rooms about your selected article and your 3 discussion questions.
- 5) Post your 500-word analysis and 3 discussion questions in the Discussion Board in D2L 1 week prior to your facilitation date.
- 6) On your assigned date, facilitate a 30-minute small group discussion based on your critical analysis of the article and discussion questions. Following the discussion, share 1 group learning with the class.

The goal of this assignment is to develop research, critical analysis, and group facilitation skills, as well as enhanced knowledge of a particular practice topic area.

3. Organizational Assessment - Group Presentation

Weight: 30% Due date: as per sign-up sheet, max. 6 students per presentation

In small groups, students are expected to research a human services organization that is of interest to your group and to investigate the characteristics of the organization on several dimensions. In researching this organization, students will pay particular attention to the goals and purpose of the organization, eligibility, and other details such as: what policies are guiding it? Who is leading the organization and who delivers the programs? How the organization and various programs are funded? Informed by the course material, social work values, and outside literature, students will critically analyze aspects of the organization and come up with changes in light of this analysis that promotes greater anti-racism and social justice values. As a group, you will also propose any organizational changes. The organizational analysis, and proposed changes, are to be presented to the class as if they were being presented to a group of stakeholders in a position to authorize the changes (e.g., board of directors, management team). The goal of this assignment is to develop collaboration and group facilitation skills, and to provide students with a variety of relevant and useful skills for practice with organizations and communities.

Some guiding questions and key areas to explore include:

1) History of the organization and the context in which it began. What is its mission? 2) What is the nature of the community as defined or understood by this organization? 3) What is the organization domain (e.g. what criteria does it use to determine which clients it will serve? 4) What programs and services are offered? What policies are guiding these programs? Who delivers the programs? How are these funded? 5) What other agencies provide the same services to the same clientele as this organization? With whom does the organization compete? 6) What is the rationale of existing organizational structure and decision-making processes? 7) Does this organization use volunteers? If yes, how many and for what purposes? Any challenges? 8) What are the agency funding sources? 9) What tax benefits the organization receives? 10) What in-kind resources (food, clothing, physical facilities etc.) does the organization receive? 11) What are the ethical and legal constraints in the delivery of service? 12) What is your understanding and evaluation of organizational culture? 13) What are some of the key strengths and areas of improvement for the organization? 14) What is the leadership style? Is it congruent with the organization mission and goals? 15) What is the role of board of directors in policy and operation of the agency? 16) How is organization strategically adapting to changing environment? Any examples? 17) What are the current issues that the organization is working on, the strategies that they are using to effect change and the kind of change they are seeking to effect? 18) What provincial and federal regulatory bodies oversee programs provided by this organization? 19) Other issues and directions that you have pursued in understanding this organization and believe merit discussion and analysis. 20) You may also conduct a SWOT analysis of the organization. 21) Do you suggest any organizational or program changes? Any recommendations?

The presentations should be well practiced and professional, simulating a presentation you might give to an important stakeholder group.

Post a reading list of 2-3 peer-reviewed journal articles in the Discussion Board in D2L 1 week prior to your presentation date that you would like the class to read related to your topic. Submit a copy of your presentation in the Dropbox in D2L the day before your presentation to assist the instructor with marking the assignment.

Each member of the team must participate equally in developing and facilitating the presentation. I may ask for peer evaluation of the team presentation. Additional assignment details and a rubric with the allocation of marks for each criterion will be posted in D2L.

4. Participation (20%) due Dec. 08 (midnight)

The participation grade awards you marks for your dedication to be an active and engaged learner in the course. All students are expected to participate in every class. Should a student be unable to attend class, please contact the instructor by email and make arrangements with the instructor or another student to discuss the materials and activities covered that day. The participation mark will be a combination of your self-assessment and the instructor's assessment.

- Self-assessment: Submit a 500-word reflection describing your participation. Assessment criteria include, but are not limited to: attending to class ground rules about professionalism and respectful engagement in the class; quality and quantity of in-class participation for individual, partner, and group work; engagement with guest speakers; completing assigned readings and other preparatory work prior to class; ability to pose questions and provide constructive feedback to peers.

- A key piece of reflecting on your own values and positions on issues is understanding and possibly confronting the values and positions of others, so participation in class discussions is very important in this course. It is important to share your viewpoint and contribute in a thoughtful and respectful way to the viewpoints of others.
- These criteria will also be used by the instructor to determine the instructor's assessment.
