SYLLABUS STATEMENT

Examines contexts, theories, practice models and skill development in addressing Indigenous ways of knowing and Intergenerational trauma.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will support students to develop an appreciation of the ways of knowing of Indigenous people. The integration of cultural protocol, ways of being and Indigenous cultural practices will be explored. Students will develop an understanding of Indigenous people and their relationship with the natural world. They will gain a holistic understanding that human beings are four dimensional (spiritual, emotional, physical and cognitive). Other areas that will be explored in this course include the roles of cultural values and kinship structures promoting healing within a community, the effects of colonization and residential school, and Inter-generational trauma informed practice.

Using an Indigenous pedagogy, this course will be taught in a circle format. There will be no tables, only chairs provided. Students may take notes. There will be an experiential and cultural component each day. A debriefing circle will be provided at the end of each day.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Understand how trauma and the environment (experience) play important roles in early childhood development
2. Identify the effects of residential school and oppressive practices with Indigenous people and communities
3. Compare the ways of being and ways of knowing of Indigenous people with other ways of knowing
4. Apply cultural methodologies as evidence-based healing methods
5. Identify the theories and practices related to trauma experienced by Indigenous people
6. Identify your personal values and beliefs and understand how they affect your practice with Indigenous people
7. Analyze what connections you made between course teachings and your practice as a social worker

The learning objectives are linked to the BSW Program Learning Outcomes through:

- 4.1.a. Promoting support and diversity by addressing structural sources of inequity
- 5.2 Employing critical thinking and reflection in practice
- 8.1 Engaging in organizational and societal systems' change through practice
- 9.2.a. Engage with individuals, families, groups and community through professional practice

ADDITIONAL ASSESSMENT AND EVALUATION INFORMATION

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION EXPECTATIONS

Students are expected to attend class regularly and to be fully present and engaged in class activities and discussions. These are part of the participation grade, as outlined in the assessment components section above. If you have to miss any portion of a class, please talk to the instructor about options that are available to you to make up for missing class.

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMITTING ASSIGNMENTS

Please submit all assignments electronically by e-mailing them to the instructor and the TA. Assignments may be submitted in Word or PDF format. Assignments should have a file name as follows: Full name and assignment title (e.g., Jane Smith Reflection Paper). Assignments are due before midnight on their due date. Please note that it is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment and to ensure that the proper version is submitted.

EXPECTATIONS FOR ASSIGNMENTS

Rubrics for each assignment are posted on D2L. Please refer to those rubrics for detailed expectations for assignment.

LATE ASSIGNMENTS

Late assignments will be accepted only in exceptional circumstances and at the discretion of the instructor.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

It is expected that all work submitted in assignments is the student's own work, written expressly by the student for this particular course. Students are reminded that academic misconduct, including plagiarism, has serious consequences, as set out in the University Calendar: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

GRADING

A student's final grade for the course is the sum of the separate assignments. It is not necessary to pass each assignment separately in order to pass the course. The University of Calgary Undergraduate Grading System and Faculty of Social Work Percentage Conversion will be used.

COURSE EVALUATION

Student feedback will be sought at the end of the course through the standard University and Faculty of Social Work course evaluation forms. Students are welcome to discuss the process and content of the course at any time with the instructor.

UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY POLICIES AND SUPPORTS

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

As members of the University community, students and staff are expected to demonstrate conduct that is consistent with the University of Calgary

Calendar <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2.html>

Students and staff are also expected to demonstrate professional behaviour in class that promotes and maintains a positive and productive learning environment. Consistent with the aims of the Social Work Program and the University of Calgary, all students and staff are expected to respect, appreciate, and encourage expression of diverse world views and perspectives; to offer their fellow community members unconditional respect and constructive feedback; and to contribute to building learning communities that promote individual and collective professional and personal growth. While critical thought and debate is valued in response to concepts and opinions shared in class, feedback must always be focused on the ideas or opinions shared and not on the person who has stated them. Students and staff are expected to model behaviour in class that is consistent with our professional values and ethics, as outlined in the Canadian Association for Social Workers, Code of Ethics (2005) and the Alberta College of Social Work Standards of Practice (2019). Both can be found online at: <https://acsw.ab.ca/site/practice-resources?nav=sidebar>

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations according to the University policies and procedures. Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS). SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/. Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf>.

RESEARCH ETHICS

"If a student is interested in undertaking an assignment that will involve collecting information from members of the public, they should speak with the course instructor and consult the CFREB Ethics Website (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/research/researchers/ethics-compliance/cfreb>) before beginning the assignment.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

INSTRUCTOR INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Course materials created by professor(s) (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the professor(s). These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the professor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

COPYRIGHT LEGISLATION

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html>) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PROTECTION OF PRIVACY

Student information will be collected in accordance with typical (or usual) classroom practice. Students' assignments will be accessible only by the authorized course faculty. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE POLICY

The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary's sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances. Please see the policy available at

<https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/sexual-violence-policy.pdf>
