EQUITY, DIVERSITY, INCLUSION, RECONCILIATION AND ANTI-RACISM

The Faculty of Social Work (FSW) is committed to anti-racist social work education and practice and to promoting and actualizing equity, diversity, inclusion and reconciliation. We affirm that diversity and differences are enriching and valuable, and that they can strengthen our teaching, learning, research, and community connections. We aim to foster an inclusive, thriving environment for our students, staff, postdoctoral fellows, and community members. We acknowledge the historic and ongoing effects of racism, systemic inequities and compounded disadvantages due to the intersection of social locations, particularly for members of racialized, Indigenous, disability and 2SLGBTQ+ communities, as well as those who have experienced socioeconomic, caregiving, religious, and cultural barriers to their education. We recognize, honour, and integrate diverse perspectives, experiences, and strengths into our work. See the faculty's Statement on Anti-Black and Anti-Asian Racism, the work of the faculty's Anti-Black Racism Task Force, and the university's Indigenous strategy.

SYLLABUS STATEMENT

An introduction to theories and skills for family-centered social work practice with families. There will be an emphasis on diversity in relation to family development issues, the stresses families face, family assessment techniques, and theories and practices of family intervention.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course adopts a collaborative and experiential approach to learning. It is intended to help forge pathways centred around a foundational understanding of the theoretical underpinnings that inform family centered social work practice. Families will be understood within the larger social and historical context, and themes such as diversity, reconciliation, power, oppression, and privilege will be explored.

Students are expected to reflect critically on the different family systems dynamics that might further compound the way families interact with one another. Students will engage in interactive class discussions, role plays, group work and experiential activities.

This course will take place online via synchronous Zoom sessions. Required readings and course related materials will be posted on the Desire2Learn (D2L).

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- 1. Gain a strong foundational knowledge of a family systems practice approach and critically analyze the use of family theory as it pertains to practice issues;
- 2. Integrate practice theory with practice behaviours;
- 3. Apply family intervention theory and skills critically and in an analytical manner;
- 4. Prepare to work with families in a practice setting. Students will explain how their learning will transfer from the classroom to practice settings;
- 5. Acquire and demonstrate an understanding of diverse family groupings;
- 6. Demonstrate critically reflective processes while working with families that allow reflection to focus on issues such as power, oppression/privilege and diversity.

ADDITIONAL CLASSROOM CONDUCT AND RELATED INFORMATION

GUIDELINES FOR ZOOM SESSIONS IN ONLINE CLASSES

Students are expected to participate actively in all Zoom sessions. If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session (e.g., to review a recorded session) for your best learning experiences. Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected, if they are able, to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.). All students are expected to behave in a professional manner during the session.

ZOOM RECORDINGS OF ONLINE CLASSES

The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

ASSESSMENT COMPONENTS

Assignment 1: Weekly logs (Group Assignment)

Weight: 30% (6.0 points per log, for total of 5 logs)

Due: Weekly according to dates indicated in D2L

Aligned Course Learning Outcome: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

Weekly log of experiential work and the integration and transfer of theory require class participation and involve a written analysis detailing the experiential family's work or small group discussion of process of simulation. This assignment will involve a collective weekly log of your family experience and relating it to the family theory and family simulation under study for that specific week. Each family simulation group is only required to submit 5 logs in order to earn a grade for this section. Students can take turns handing in logs until a maximum number of 5 submissions as a group is attained.

The rationale behind this assignment is to engage in the integration of theory and practice: Students will work in teams of about five or six students (variable based on family design and randomly assigned). Each family team will work together on weekly issues that may have stemmed from family simulation activity. The first step is to construct a family with which you will work with for the term. One student will play the role of family social worker and the other students will play a specific role in the family. Roles can be switched around at any point during this exercise. Family teams will spend the first two weeks "forming" their family. Each week, family teams will meet in the second half lab section of class and work with their family. Family structure and composition will be determined by each team. Family members will select a name and the family will develop a structure, dynamic, interaction patterns and history.

Logs will be based on the simulated family experience and dynamics that occurred in each weekly session.

Weekly logs will consist of three brief sections. Each weekly log shall identify the family members present (with the associated real names of the students) and when necessary identify the impact of missing family members upon the family session as well as what could be done to engage the missing family member better. The first paragraph will be a description of the family session and a brief overview of what happened in the day's session. The second paragraph will include relevant theory from the text and classroom lectures and your reflection of how these ideas are relevant to the current dynamics of your family creation. Your third paragraph will include your thoughts on: What is working well? What would you do differently? Outside readings are not necessary to receive full marks for a log.

When completing logs during the initial family formation period, requirements listed in the first paragraph section may not be relevant. Your log can instead focus on highlighting group discussions around the process leading up to the creation of your family.

Assignment 2: Assessment Creation and Reflection (choice of Individual or Group Assignment)

Weight: Total of 35%: Part A: 10% and Part B: 25%

Due: March 1 by 11:59pm

Aligned Course Learning Outcome: 2,4,6

Part A: Genogram, Ecomap or Tree of Life

Students will create a visual assessment and mapping tool (Genogram, Ecomap or Tree of Life) of their family of choice which could either be real, fictional or a combination of both. This assessment should be created with a legend (where applicable), reflecting on the storyline, structure and relationship dynamic that exists amongst the members of your selected family.

Part B: Paper – Reflection

Students are expected to provide an overview of the family depicted in the assessment tool of choice (Genogram, Ecomap or Tree of Life) by identifying the structure, dynamic, presenting issues or areas of concern as well as a reflection of their own approach. Be detailed on the structure and process of your interview, your engagement strategy while referencing some examples of key interview questions generated. Comment on what this process of information gathering was like for you and your family. Consider your own social location and approach to anti-oppressive practice and how this might have influenced this exercise. Reflect on what you did well and what could have been done differently.

Please post a copy of your assessment tool (Genogram, Ecomap or Tree of Life) and paper on the dropbox on D2L

Length: 3-4 pages double-spaced (excluding title page and references) Format: APA 7th edition Grading: The grading criteria for this assignment will be discussed in class and a rubric will be posted on D2L.

Assignment 3: Group Presentations - Intervention

Weight: 35%

Due: March 29 or April 12

Aligned Course Learning Outcomes: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

Students are expected to collectively showcase their families to the class.

Select 1 or 2 family challenges, issues or key themes that were identified from your assessment process - these issues could range from mental health, substance use, criminality, trauma, domestic violence, etc.

Expand and build on this by developing a service/intervention plan that offers an alternative restorative and healing response. Comment on whether community and kinship supports are applicable forms of intervention in strengthening the family's overall functioning. Outline what modality or framework your intervention is centred upon. Reflect on your overall experience through this work – panic areas, growth areas, a-ha moments and any other general lessons learned. Discuss your self-care activities as practitioners through this process.

Students are required to utilize at least three external references.

Creativity can be shown in the facilitation style and organization. Students will have 30 minutes to showcase their presentation and overall process to the class.

Please post a copy of your powerpoint on the dropbox on the D2L. All group members will receive the same grade for the group assignment.

Any references and images used in the presentation should adhere to APA 7th Edition.
