OUR COMMITMENT TO EQUITY, RACIAL JUSTICE, DIVERSITY, INCLUSION AND DECOLONIZATION

The Faculty of Social Work (FSW), University of Calgary (UCalgary), is committed to promoting and actualizing equity, racial justice, diversity, inclusion and decolonization. We affirm that diversity and uniqueness are enriching and valuable, and that they can strengthen our teaching, learning, research, scholarship, and community connections. We aim to foster an inclusive, thriving and equitable environment for our students, non-academic and academic staff, and community members. We take the stand that equity does not mean sameness in treatment of people, but rather requires measures and accommodations for diverse life experiences and circumstances to ensure that no one of a particular social group is disadvantaged, underrepresented or overlooked in all aspects of our work. We intend to address systemic inequities and compounded disadvantages due to intersectionality of social locations, particularly for those who are members of racialized communities, Indigenous peoples, Black peoples, persons with disabilities, migrant groups (including refugees and immigrants), 2SLGBTQ+ communities, linguistic minorities as well as those who have experienced socioeconomic, caregiving, religious, political, and/or cultural barriers to their education and employment. We also recognize, honour, and integrate into our work diverse perspectives, ways of knowing and doing, experiences, and strengths. An anti-oppressive lens, particularly intersectional, anti-colonial, anti-racist and decolonizing frameworks, will inform our work.

SYLLABUS STATEMENT

Focuses on theory and practice related to social work interventions.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

In this course, we will explore the historical context and legacies of colonization that have given rise to intergenerational trauma. Through engagement with media-based Indigenous narratives, students will develop an increased conceptual understanding of systemic racism, as it contributes to existing inequities and ongoing oppression. The students will learn about Indigenous pathways to healing—drawing on examples from a variety of contexts inclusive of theory highlighted in the course readings alongside stories shared by practicing social workers—and will consider the processes as they may be applied to social work at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels, asking: How can we better support Indigenous youth, families, and communities through strengths-based, culturally appropriate, and community specific programming, policies, and practices?

This course will take place in-person on campus. To best succeed in the course, students are expected to attend all classes. The course offering engages Indigenous Elders, scholars, and practitioners as experts from the field. Each guest speaker provides perspectives, insights, experiences, and wisdom from their work in the field. The rich and varied presentations are scheduled around the availability of the speakers. Some will attend in-person. Others will join the class over Zoom. Classes will be structured to allow students to work in their groups towards their final assignment; however, flexibility will be important when guests are generously sharing their time and knowledge with the class.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Recognize how governmental structures, policies, and programs have normalized racism, violence, and oppression towards Indigenous peoples,
2. Describe how the legacies of colonization have contributed to intergenerational trauma,
3. Understand how trust has been broken and creates barriers for Indigenous people within systems of care, justice, and education,
4. Identify pathways to healing that reflect Indigenous ways of knowing, being, and doing,
5. Reflect on ways individuals and organizations work alongside Indigenous Elders and Knowledge Keepers to support healing processes and practices in ethical and respectful ways,
6. Make connections between the stories, theories, and experiences introduced in the course and the micro, mezzo, and macro levels of social work, and
7. Demonstrate a commitment to working towards reconciliation.

LEARNING TECHNOLOGIES AND REQUIREMENTS

A D2L site is set up for this course, which contains required readings and other relevant class resources and materials. A laptop, desktop or mobile device with Internet access, microphone and speaker is required for D2L and Zoom access.

RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER COURSES

This course will build on existing social work diversity courses and extend learning through the critical consideration of theories and practices specific to Indigenous ways of knowing, being and doing.

GUIDELINES FOR ZOOM SESSIONS IN ONLINE CLASSES

Students are expected to participate actively in all Zoom sessions. If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session (e.g., to review a recorded session) for your best learning experiences. Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Unless advised (or agreed) otherwise by their instructors, video cameras should be turned on during class and students are expected to manage their microphones as required. All students are expected to behave in a professional manner during all Zoom sessions.

ASSESSMENT COMPONENTS

Assignment 1: Sharing (20%) – Due date varies, in-class August 29-30 (individual)

Aligned Course Learning Outcomes: 1, 2, 3

Assignment Description: Choose one media resource to preview prior to class. Provide a 2–3-minute oral account of the story in class, answering: What is the untold story? Who is telling it? How does the story fit with the historical and national narratives about colonization and Canada’s relationship with the First Peoples of Turtle Island? What is your responsibility as witness to the story?

Assessment Criteria: Rubric will be posted on D2L.

Assignment 2: Commitment to Reconciliation (40%) – Due September 1st in-class (group)

Aligned Course Learning Outcomes: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7

Assignment Description: This learning task is intended to facilitate and assess students’ ongoing learning, reflection, collaboration, and responsibility to reconciliation. Honouring the relational, interconnected nature of Indigenous ways of knowing, being, and doing, this work is intentionally collective. Through small-group discussion, students will engage in a collaborative process of reflection, positioning, and coming to terms with personal and professional responsibilities. At the end of the term, groups will look back on their collective process and then make a claim about their commitment to reconciliation with consideration for the micro, mezzo, and macro levels of social work.

Students will be placed into small groups (+/- 5 students) and will work with their assigned learning group in class each day. Each group will:

- Meet as a group, as set out by your instructor
- Select an alternating member each class to serve as witness
 - The witness will listen to the group conversation and will share a synopsis of that day’s process (process of deep listening rather than sharing own perspectives)
 - This synopsis may be digitally recorded (audio or visual), approx. 3 minutes in length, written, or shared orally with their own group members at the start of the next class
- Represent and share their learning by making a claim to their colleagues (via an oral presentation), looking back at the weekly discussions to articulate growth/transformation/learning/relationship to (or continuing barriers with) course themes, and responsibility to reconciliation at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels of social work

Claims will be presented orally during the last week(s) of class (approximately 10 minutes’ duration).

Students will be asked to submit peer feedback on group members’ contributions to this learning task. Students will also be asked to provide qualitative feedback on other groups’ work. Instructor will consider peer feedback in generating grades for this learning task. Instructor may choose to give grade and feedback orally rather than in writing, in keeping with Indigenous traditions.

Assessment Criteria: Rubric will be posted on D2L.

Assignment 3: Visual Essay / Final Reflection (40%) – Due September 8th by 11:59 pm (individual)

Aligned Course Learning Outcomes: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

Assignment Description: A visual essay allows for an aesthetic expression of your learning in the course. The inclusion of original photos, along with accompanying text, holds great potential to stimulate deeper and more meaningful exploration of course themes. However, students must also enter into this assignment with caution and care, reflexively conscious of the ethical and sociocultural nuances underpinning such an investigation. Consider your positioning in relation to Indigenous histories and issues, and your responsibilities to right relationships.

In this assignment, you will work individually to create:

- An image or short series of images that represent(s) concepts relevant to course themes
 - images must be original, and not taken from the internet or elsewhere
 - images may not include living people, with or without permission

Along with an individually written 500–1000-word critical reflection in relation to personal experiences, course themes, in-class discussions, and relevant literature.

Reflections should include scholarly references and examples as to how your learning might inform your future practice as a social worker, with respect to Indigenous pathways to healing. Consider your role in supporting healing processes and practices in ethical and respectful ways.

Assignments are to be submitted electronically through D2L.

Assessment Criteria: Rubric will be posted on D2L.

ADDITIONAL ASSESSMENT AND EVALUATION INFORMATION

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION EXPECTATIONS

Much of the learning in this course is participatory. For this reason, students are expected to be fully present and engaged in class activities and discussions. If you need to miss a class, please notify your instructor, and follow up with a peer to find out what was missed in class.

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMITTING ASSIGNMENTS

Please submit all assignments electronically through their respective Dropbox in D2L. Assignments may be submitted in Word or PDF format. Assignments should have a file name as follows: “Full name and assignment number” (e.g., Jane Smith Assignment 2). Assignments are due by 11:59pm on their due date. Please note that it is the student’s responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment and to ensure that the proper version is submitted.

LATE ASSIGNMENTS

Late assignments will be accepted only in exceptional circumstances at the discretion of the instructor and may be penalized with a grade reduction.

EXPECTATIONS FOR WRITING

Written assignments will be assessed partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization. Sources used in research papers must be properly documented and referenced in APA 7th edition format. If you need writing support, please connect with the Student Success Centre, at: <https://www.ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-success/writing-support>

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

It is expected that all work submitted in assignments is the student's own work, written expressly by the student for this particular course. Students are reminded that academic misconduct, including plagiarism, has serious consequences, as set out in the University Calendar: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

GRADING

A student's final grade for the course is the sum of the separate assignments. It is not necessary to pass each assignment separately in order to pass the course. If a student's final grade falls between two letter grades, the instructor will round up (e.g., 89.25 → 90). The University of Calgary Undergraduate Grading System and Faculty of Social Work Percentage Conversion will be used. This grading system overrides the grading system in D2L.

Grade	Grade Point	Description	Percentage Range
A+	4.0	Outstanding performance	95-100
A	4.0	Excellent performance	85-94
A-	3.7	Approaching excellent performance	80-84
B+	3.3	Exceeding good performance	77-79
B	3.0	Good performance	73-76
B-	2.7	Approaching good performance	70-72
C+	2.3	Exceeding satisfactory performance	67-69

C	2.00	Satisfactory performance	63-66
C-	1.70	Approaching satisfactory performance	60-62
D+	1.30	Marginal pass. Insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject	57-59
D	1.00	Minimal pass. Insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject.	50-56
F	0.00	Failure. Did not meet course requirements.	Below 50
CG		Credit Granted. Not included in the GPA calculation. See section F.1.3 for additional detail.
CR		Completed Requirements. Carries no weight in calculating the grade point average. This will be noted in the calendar description as “Not Included in GPA” where applicable.

COURSE EVALUATION

Student feedback will be sought at the end of the course through the standard University and Faculty of Social Work course evaluation forms. Students are welcome to discuss the process and content of the course at any time with the instructor.

UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY POLICIES AND SUPPORTS

Professional Conduct

As members of the University community, students and staff are expected to demonstrate conduct that is consistent with the University of Calgary's Code of Conduct.

Students and staff are also expected to demonstrate professional behaviour in class that promotes and maintains a positive and productive learning environment. Consistent with the aims of the Social Work Program and the University of Calgary, all students and staff are expected to respect, appreciate, and encourage expression of diverse world views and perspectives; to offer their fellow community members unconditional respect and constructive feedback; and to contribute to building learning communities that promote individual and collective professional and personal growth. While critical thought and debate is valued in response to concepts and opinions shared in class, feedback must always be focused on the ideas or opinions shared and not on the person who has stated them.

Students and staff are expected to model behaviour in class that is consistent with our professional values and ethics, as outlined in the Canadian Association for Social Workers, Code of Ethics (2005) and the Alberta College of Social Work Standards of Practice (2019).

Academic Accommodation

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations according to the University policies and procedures. Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS). SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their instructor. Please refer to the full policy on Student Accommodations.

Research Ethics

"If a student is interested in undertaking an assignment that will involve collecting information from members of the public, they should speak with the course instructor and consult the CFREB Ethics Website before beginning the assignment.

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please refer to the Integrity and Conduct section in the University of Calgary Calendar.

Instructor Intellectual Property

Course materials created by professor(s) (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the professor(s). These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the professor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Copyright Legislation

All students who use materials protected by copyright are expected to comply with the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright and requirements of the Copyright Act to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy

Student information will be collected in accordance with typical (or usual) classroom practice. Students' assignments will be accessible only by the authorized course faculty. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary.

Sexual and Gender-Based Violence Policy

The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary's Sexual and Gender-based Violence Policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances.
